SUMMER 2025 EDITION

We're back with a special summer edition of our newsletter! This issue features our student spotlight and important information about our upcoming fall programs. This summer has been full of energy and excitement — we've loved meeting new students, reconnecting with returning ones, and watching everyone grow. Summer enrollment is still open, so parents can still sign up to join the fun! We also have an early bird discount available for our fall programs — enroll your child by July 31st to take advantage of special pricing. We have many exciting things planned for the rest of the summer, and we're so glad to be spending it with such an amazing group of students.

Coach's Corner

One of the most inspiring parts of this summer has been seeing how quickly our students rise to the challenge. Whether they're stepping up to give their first speech, diving into a new debate format, or just finding the courage to speak a little louder — every moment of growth is something to celebrate. We've already had such a fun and meaningful start to the season, and we can't wait for everything still to come. This summer is all about building confidence, finding your voice, and having a blast while doing it!

About Holden Chin

Hi, I'm Holden! This summer at Cogito, I've learned how to speak more confidently using my voice and body language. It's really helped with things like school presentations and interviews. I'm especially interested in science and math. I recently interviewed for both teams at school and got into both! Outside of Cogito, I stay busy with tutoring I go to Russian School of Math, Kumon, Elite Prep — and I just finished a business program. For fun, my family's going camping soon, probably in the mountains near San Diego. I used to play baseball, but now I'm focused more on academics. I've competed in seven Cogito tournaments and I'll be back next week! If you really try and pay attention, there are so many extra opportunities out there — like robotics or other school programs. I'm glad I joined Cogito and would definitely recommend it.

Parent Message:

A few fun things to share: Holden just graduated 5th grade at TMA and will be attending Orchard Hills next year. He enjoys tennis, golf, snowboarding, running, and baseball. He's been part of the Tustin Pony All-Star Baseball Team for several years and is running a 5K race every week this summer!

Holden loves math and science — he earned a Silver medal in the Science Olympiad and placed in the top 20th percentile nationally in the Math Olympiad.
